

ECON 2020-100

Office: ECON 401

Office Hours: Wednesday 8:00-10:00 a.m. and by appointment on trade, national production, unemployment, business cycles, and monetary/fiscal policy. My goal for this course is to provide you with a strong framework for understanding the economy as a whole, which will enable you to understand a variety of common topics in macroeconomics.

Prerequisites:

The prerequisite for this course is ECON 2010, Principles of Microeconomics.

Required Materials:

N. Gregory Mankiw - Principles of Macroeconomics ©2018 8th Edition

CU Clicker/ i>clicker/ iClicker Reef (phone app) register your clicker id on MyCUinfo

Any version of Mankiw's Principles of Macroeconomics will be sufficient for the course. The textbook and clickers are available at the bookstore. The online textbook is offered as a bundle with MindTap homework software, or with MindTap and a loose-

Lectures:

I will use lecture time to discuss new material or go over example problems to prepare for exams. Attendance will be taken in each lecture using clickers to answer questions related to the material. You are required to answer every clicker question to earn attendance points for the day. Missing any clicker question will result in a zero for the day.

Each lecture you miss beyond your unexcused absences will count equally against your attendance grade. All material that I discuss in lecture will be required knowledge for the exams. Please do not use any electronic devices for anything unrelated to this course. Anyone who is distracting or refuses to participate during lecture will be asked to leave.

I will not distribute my lecture notes or repeat lectures to students who are unable to attend. It will be your responsibility to obtain notes from your classmates if you need to make up a lecture.

Exams:

Midterm exams will be held in class during lecture time. There will be three midterm exams and a

I will assign you a letter grade which will include +/- . I will strictly adhere to the assignment of your letter grade based on your percentage grade in the class. This means I will not individually curve your grade to move it up a letter grade (e.g. an 89.9% will be a B+, I will not move it up to an A-). Please speak to me if you have concerns about your grade at any point in the semester. Cheating will not be tolerated in this course. This includes cheating on an exam, cheating in will assign you a 0% in the course. I will then meet with the Associate Chair of Undergraduate Studies for the Economics Department, and we will report this to the Honor Council to decide upon further punishment, which could include expulsion from the University. I will attend any honor council hearing and personally provide evidence for an accusation of cheating.

Practice Problems:

I believe repetition with the material in this course will be important to succeed on the exams. I will provide practice problems on D2L in place of assigned homework. These problems are designed to inform you what information may be important for an upcoming exam. You are encouraged to complete these practice sets early and come to me with questions prior to the exam.

Online homework software MindTap online option. MindTap will provide practice problems from your textbook which you can use to supplement your understanding of the material in the text.

Email/Office Hours:

Contact me by emailing me or stopping by my office hours. Please allow 24 hours or over the weekend for an email response. I will be available during my office hours throughout the semester to discuss any material or concerns you may have regarding this course.

University Policies:

If you qualify for accommodations because of a disability, please submit to me a letter from Disability Services in a timely manner so that your needs can be addressed. Disability Services determines accommodations based on documented disabilities. Contact: 303-492-8671, Center for Community N200, and <http://www.Colorado.EDU/disabilityservices>. If you have a temporary medical condition or injury, see guidelines at <http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices/go.cgi?select=temporary.html>. Disability Services' letters for students with disabilities indicate legally mandated reasonable accommodations. The syllabus statements and answers to Frequently Asked Questions can be found at <http://www.colorado.edu/disabilityservices>.

